“Trude’s Flatmate”

Trude’s new flatmate is rather peculiar – he is big, furry and he talks! He simply shows up on Trude’s doorstep one day. Trude teaches her new friend about her world as he comes to terms with her customs and traditions. Trude’s flatmate is as inquisitive as he is loveable and along with him, little ones learn how to ask for forgiveness, overcome their fears and understand that rage is a very short-lived feeling.
