‘The Human Quiz’

The human being is one of the most complex organisms on earth. But how much do we really know about ourselves? This exiting knowledge game show takes the audience on a trip to discover the most amazing, bizarre and interesting facts about the Homo Sapiens. Along for the ride are three celebrity teams competing for charity – and for a spot in the grand finale. Why are our fingers so strong? What do you know about sugar? And how do deaf people sense music? A combination of physical games, tricky quiz rounds and enlightening clips chase each other and will have the viewers on the edge of their seats. But who will take home the grand prize?

- Target group: All audiences
